Urmas Klaas
Mayor of Tartu

The city of Tartu is the historical center of Southern Estonia. The city with a history of nearly a thousand years has developed into an important center of culture and science. Tartu is the European Capital of Culture in 2024, and we are very happy that we can include the plowing world championships as one of the events of Tartu 2024. We look forward to welcome you in Tartu and Southern Estonia in 2024.

Ülle Jaakma
Rector of Estonian
University of Life Sciences

Welcome to the Estonian University of Life Sciences. Our mission is to create and share knowledge to the promoters of bio-economy for the best of Nature and Man. Plowing competitions have been held in Estonia for 150 years, and the University is pleased to host the World Plowing Championships in 2024.

TORI STUD FARM

Tori Stud Farm (est. 1856) is located at historical Tori Manor Estate. Horses are of Tori and Estonian indigenous breed. Tori breed was initiated in 1892 by using a Norfolk Roadster stallion called Hetman for cross-breeding. Tori Stud Farm is a unique symbol of Estonian cultural heritage, and the whole complex including the horses is under development to become a sophisticated Equine Centre offering various services.

MOOSTE MANOR

The story of Mooste manor (german Moisekatz) goes back to the 16th century when the king of Poland, Stefan Batory, gave its territory to the county judge of Võnnu, Wilhelm Sturtz. After that the manor's territory went through the hands of many, before being obtained by the von Nolckens in 1810. They ran the manor for about a 100 years and left us most of the legacy we have now.
